NEW ACQUISITIONS

The City of Hominy has recently donated a ledger book that was used for keeping records of financial transactions.

The ledger dates to 1911, and was recently uncovered by the municipality when sorting through some long archived materials.

The ledger itself, still in excellent condition for 103 years old.

Below:

A sample from one of the pages, which includes the name of Ira Mullins, who was a physician in early-day Hominy.

NEW ONLINE ARCHIVE

The mission of the Hominy Heritage Association has always been to acquire and preserve information and memorabilia relating to the history of Hominy, Oklahoma, for posterity. While our meeting numbers have been small, we continue to work to preserve our rich cultural heritage.

With the advent of the Internet, we are compiling information, documents and photographs into an online archive that can be freely accessed by anyone who is interested in our collection. As we continue to build our archive, we ask that you all share with us your memories, information, photographs to help us develop this wealth of information.

You can access the archive section specifically at:

archive.hominyheritage.org

Our new website is up and running now and can be browsed anytime by visiting:

If you have questions, comments, memories, information or anything else that deals with Hominy's history please feel free to contact us.

HERITAGE WELCOMES NEW PRESIDENT

Arthur Shoemaker, long-time Hominy Heritage Association President, welcomed new President Jimmie Ratliff, following the December 2013 meeting. Shoemaker, who is still very active in the Association, made the motion to appoint Ratliff as new president and members approved.

The outgoing President stated that it was time for someone else to take on the role and responsibilities, but he has no intentions of leaving the organization.

Shoemaker continues to promote the Association's efforts to acquire and preserve the history of the town that he has called home for many years.

Ratliff, a Hominy native, previously served as the Secretary for the Heritage and has been the Librarian at the Hominy Public Library for more than a decade.
